S. McCAMMACK SEEKS PARDON FROM PRISON

JEFFERSON TOWNSHIP MAN
SENT UP FOR MAN-SLAUGHTER.

FOUND GUILTY IN NOV., 1925

Indicted By Grand Jury Following
Death of Charles Brooks. Altercation Over Wages.

A petition is now before the state board of pardons for the release of Sam McCamrack, Jefferson township farmer, from the Michigan City prison, where he is serving a term of two to twenty-one years for manslaughter. McCamrack, an elderly man, was found guilty by a Putnam circuit court jury on Tuesday, November 10, 1925. The case grew out of the death of Charles Brooks, a farm hand, who died in the Putnam county hospital August 15, 1925, as a result of injuries inflicted by McCamrack during an altercation.

The grand jury was called into special session but only an indictment against McCamrack was returned although Mrs. McCamrack and Alice Grimes, a neighbor were under suspicion. Brooks died of a fractured skull being struck over the head by a section of fence rail wielded by McCamrack in a quarrel over wages.

McCamrack has served more than a year of his sentence and due to his advanced age it is possible that he may be pardoned.

Snow Blockades Colorado Town

ANOTHER DEEP SNOWFALL PILES DRIFTS HIGHER AT SILVERTOWN.

SILVERTOWN, Colo., March 10.—Silvertown, just beginning to dig itself out from a four weeks snow blockade, today was faced with the prospect of complete isolation for at least another month.

A new storm which began early yesterday in the mountains continued throughout the night and left three additional feet of snow on the great drifts surrounding the town.

One hundred and fifty men engaged in a losing attempt to clear the tracks of the Denver and Rio Grande Western railroad were called from work when danger of snow slides became imminent.

Last night several slides were reported, completely burying the track in many places under tons of snow.

Silvertown, a small mining town, is surrounded by high mountains some 200 miles from Denver. It is snow-bound several weeks at a time yearly and citizens are prepared for prolonged isolation. The present situation, however, is regarded as the worst ever encountered in the district.

Enough staple food is on hand to last until mid-April.

Coulter Speaks To Kiwanians

DEAN COULTER DELIVERS IN-STRUCTIVE LECTURE TO LOCAL CLUB.

Dean Stanley Coulter of Purdue University gave an excellent address to the Kiwanians at their weekly luncheon Thursday noon. He stated his instructive talk describing the heritage that all Hoosiers possess. "Indiana" said the speaker, "is the garden spot of the world in agriculture and also many things of historical note are also attributed to the people of this progressive state."

Dean Coulter mentioned the majority of the early historical sites throughout the state and then talked about the intellectuality of the people. He told of the great writers that were born and educated in this state and he also said that they compared very favorably with the writers of Boston and New York.

The speaker briefly reviewed the great resources of Indiana in men and materials. Coal, stone, and clay are in abundance everywhere. Indiana is the very center of the most varied agriculture district in the world.

"But," said Dean Coulter, "the world is full of discontent the discontent that must be answered by the shedding of blood. By lawlessness, I do not mean the evident lawlessness of the hold-up but the ridicule of law by the men and women who made it, as citizens."

Dean Coulter concluded his talk by saying that the answer to the problem will come only when we feel our citizenship as we did in the World War.

BREATHING ALTHOUGH DIA-PHRAM IS PARALYZED.

EVANSTON, Ill., Mar. 10. (UP)—Death was held at a stand-off today as 57 comrades battled to make life possible for Alfred Frick, 22 years old salesman who is a victim of paralysis of the diaphragm.

For more than 30 hours now the co-workers of the young salesman, in shifts of two, have taken turns at tenderly pressing on Frick's chest to give life to the man who can not breathe.

A relapse occurred during the night causing worry to the doctors and attendants, but there was no change in the rhythm of the attempts at artificial respiration.

The steady rhythm was continued and the first of the many crises, through which Frick must pass, ended in a victory over the death that threatens.

"If he can survive twenty-four perhaps thirty-six hours more, he probably will recover," was the announcement of physicians at 5 a. m.

RUSH WORK ON DORMITORY FOR DFU MEN

LONGDEN HALL TO BE READY FOR OCCUPANCY BY JUNE

Dozens of busy workmen are to be found in the new Longden hall at every turn. A walk through the place shows the beauty taking form on every floor and by commencement time, the building will look quite different from what it does today.

It is one absolutely fire proof building to be found in Greencastle. Everything is of fire proof construction with the exception of the window and door casings. The floors are tarazzo, and the walls are hollow tile, and the outside walls are of brick, lined with tile.

The building has three full floors and has living accommodations for about 120 students. In addition to the living rooms, which are of large size, there will be guest rooms, a large parlor and one of the finest dining rooms in any building on the campus.

The kitchen is in keeping with the dining room and an electric refrigerator, costing approximately $9,000 is being installed.

The finish is being placed in many of the rooms and within another month, the debris to be found on most of the floors will be cleaned away and the building will take on its final look. The exterior walls will be washed and it will then show the old English finish that the architect expected it to show.

ED FRAZIER WRITES ABOUT GREENCASTLE

EX-RESIDENT TELLS OF LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN DAYS GONE BY.

SENDS LETTER TO SISTER

Mrs. John McFarlane Receives Epistle
Which Answers Queries Published in Banner.

Edward Frazier, a brother of Mrs. John McFarlane, who now lives at Montpelier, O., and who is an engineer on a fast passenger train on the Wabash between that city and Chicago, has written his sister a very interesting letter about the early history of Greencastle, much of which was recalled by a series of questions asked by a writer in the Banner some two weeks ago. Mr. Frazier left here in 1877, but recalls much of the early history of the city which now makes mighty interesting reading. His letter is as follows:

Montpelier, Ohio, Mar. 5,
To Mrs. Jno. McFarlane,
Dear Sister:—

I received your Daily Banner today and the questions asked sure to carry me back to my boyhood days and I will try and answer some of them, but can't remember dates or names very well. Some of the questions refer to places and names that were popular after I left home. I left G. C. in 1877, spent two years in Indianapolis and went to Chicago in 1879, so my last year in G. C. was campaign year, 1876. I was a Harrison Guard. Ben Harrison and Dan Vorhees the tall sycamore of the Wabash was one of the most noted speakers in this campaign. Oh, but we boys had some thrilling times, with our Red shirts and the big capital H on the front and a red cap and the tin torch. But I was awfully disappointed at the result of this election. When we boys of the north heard the boom of the cannon up at Fred Weik's black smith shop we all tore out for up town, the greater number of the boys being Democrats and Williams guards and of course I had to stand for a lot of joshing from them.

Well to answer question No. 1 I will never forget the old Tolly orchard over across the creek up on the top of hill. You asked what kind of apples; well, to the best of my knowledge they were a mighty poor grade of apples and we kids used to eat them with great relish and in such numbers that I still remember the stomach aches that invariably followed. The feast of the sycamore tree.

2. The North Bend was about 14 mile N. E. of the old overhead bridge. Uncle Louis Sulder's two ice houses were on the bank at the bend. It was quite deep and still here, and a good swimming hole. I remember the man who was drowned there as I was there when his body was taken out; he was standing on his feet at the bottom of the deep hole. I recall all his name was Bowman. But I remember one time when I was about 16 years old the young men had taken a large pulley and set it on the ice house and tied one end up on a limb on a big old sycamore tree, and they tied a cross piece at the other end and would take a run and swing out over the water and dive. Well of course, I wanted to try the stunt so Geo. Shildmeyer, Theo. Zolber and Pat Long, gave me a boost and they threw me as high that I was afraid to let go until the rope was almost straight out and then let go, and I sailed out almost across the creek and landed on the flat of my back and almost choked to death. I had blisters on my back for days.

No. 3. Dan Henry's ice houses were located just west of the old bridge on the south shore. The dam was between the bridge and the old dam where the old flour mill stood.

2-4. I guess when you speak of Dixie Bend, you refer to the Bend in the creek up at Beccy Dye's Bluff where we used to go for saw grass. I never see a paw paw that I don't think of itch nettles and we were did find plenty of itch nettles up on that old bluff. It was no place for a bare footed boy.

2-5. The straight is located between the old Henry Dam and where Uncle Louis had his new ice houses, after his old houses had been washed away by an awful flood and is where we boys used to have our swimming hole.

6. Hi White's, Branch is the one that runs past your home, and used to cross the Big road between the old stone quarry and the old Toll Gate. We boys also had a swimming hole here, just east of the big road.

7. I guess that by Daggye Park Packing Plant you refer to the old Packing Mill East of Bill Thompson's Restaurant. I remember Bernaby's mill as being located on the branch just north of the Monon R. R. tracks. The street car barn was located just south of the old Birks Woolen mill and next to Uncle Louis' black smith shop. There were three cars; two closed and one open. The open car being called the Dolly Varden. Chas. Grovan drove one car and I the other. We used to carry the mail from all trains to the post office; we also hauled baggage. I shall never forget the horses we had on those old cars. We had one old away back, that you couldn't possibly have fallen off of it if you could get on his back. We also had one old plug that used to the North Depot. One time the old car jumped the track about half way down the hill and ran up over the side walk and knocked down about half of Dr. Knight's fence.10. I remember the old hollow stacks on the old I. N. A. & C. R. R.

as I did my first railroad work there,
but they were not burning wood when I started, but I remember the tread mill saw that they used to saw the wood for the engines. A horse on a tread mill walking up hill all day long.
I will give you some of the names of those old quill wheels, the largest at that time were about 16 by 24 cylinders, and 20 cars was a full freight train. I fired the old Racer, a small engine used to push all freight trains from Greencastle to Bainbridge. The water tank was located about 1 or 5 miles out of G. C. on Big Walnut creek, about a mile south of the bridge, we also went to the Junction for coal and other cars from the Van R. R. Here are some of the names of the engines:
North Wind, South Wind, Black
Hawk, Tecumseh, W. F. Reynolds,
Zebra, White Bear, Antelope, Gazelle,
Rover, Ratler, Racer, Rocket, Rein
Deer, Rusher, Attella, Dart, Sampson, Hercules and several others, all small in comparison with the engines of today. But with beautiful landscape painting on the tenders.10. Oliver P. Badger's fruit farm was located west of the north depot about 3-4 miles, west on the old I. & St. L. R. R. tracks. Here is where I got my early training as a merchant.
Mike Sage, John Merryweather and I used to go to Mr. Badger's orchard and buy a peck of apples and I have never seen or tasted such Winesaps, before or since. We would meet all the passenger trains on the I. & St. L. and the L. N. A. & C. at the depot and sell our apples to the passengers. We got 5c for 4 apples.
11. Brown's Hall was the first theater building in G. C., located on the west side of the square and was operated by a Mr. Hill; his son Jerome became a noted cornet player while quite a young man and was a member of the King Gold Band at Terra Haus during the Fair Week. Old F.
G. White and Co., always played at this hall; such plays as Cricket on the Hearth, Nick of the Woods, East Lynn and Uncle Tom's Cabin. All lectures given by out of town speakers were held here. I shall never forget one time I attended a lecture on anatomy. The lecturer had on display, a number of skeletons and one dried or mummified exhibit, who he claimed was a desperate outlaw of the Jesse James type in life and who had been hanged. Well, boy like of course, I occupied a front seat and directly under the horrid old mummy.
Well I really was just a little afraid of this old outlaw while in the hall, but when the lecture was over and the audience filed down stairs it was raining and thundering and flash after flash of lightning. I stood at the foot of the stairs until all had come down and there was no one there from the north end, so I had to go home all alone. There were no street lamps and the side walks from the square to the depot were very irregular; some of cinders and brick and very rough in places. It was so dark that I couldn't see how to keep on the walk only during a flash of lightning.
I had worked my way from the hall
down Jackson St., until I was immediately in front of the old locust grove that used to stand on the N. W. corner where you turn to go to the 1st Ward school, I have forgotten the name of this street, but it was always very dark and spooky here with all those trees and no lights. Well, I had been standing there for perhaps 5 minutes waiting for another flash
of lightning and in my mind's eye
I had that old mummy right behind me and ready to pounce upon me
when two old cats let a scream out and right at my feet. Well it is useless to say that I waited any longer for it to lightning. I just went on home in the dark and I didn't stop to pick any straw berries either.12. I saw this man killed at the corner. I was across the street watching the firemen at work. It seems to me the man that was killed was named Shipley, he was a furniture dealer. There was an outside stairway to the upper story and he,
I think, cut away a support to the stair, and the wall fell and caught him before he could escape.13. Buffington's hardware store was located on the east side of the square. It seems to me that Keigh-ley's Bank was on the south side of the square, but I am not sure.14. The Black Brother's livery and sale stable was on Jackson St., owned and operated by Geo. and Bob Black.15. Do I remember when the circus traveled overland? Well, I should say I do, and any other that ever saw them coming to town will never forget it. The greatest number of shows that used to come to G. C.
came from Crawfordville and of course came in on Jackson St. Well, all the kids in the north end would get up at 3 a. m., or stay up all night and walk out to meet them. We usually waited at the old overhead bridge. They were afraid it would not hold them so the men in charge of them made them ford the creek just east of the bridge, and they sure did have one good time getting them to come out of water. They would just about drown all of us kids throwing water all over everyone with renewed of them. I recall how important we used to feel as we marched alongside of the elephants into town and when we met any of the other boys we were proud to boast that we had met them way out and we generally had a job by this time carrying water to the elephants for which we got a ticket of admission. The old time shows that I remember all showed at the grounds out near where Gillespie now lives and Sage's grove.
They were Van Aubrey's, Yankee

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores its Natural Color and Lustre At Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients. A large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

If Rheumatic Eat No Sweets

Says Glans of Sweets Helps to Overcome Rheumatism Acid.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly, keep the feet dry, avoid exposure, and above all, drink plenty of good water and avoid eating sweets of all kind. Rheumatism is caused by body waste and acids resulting from food fermentation. It is the junction of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of forcing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this waste and acids, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste matter, also to stimulate the kidneys, thus often relieving the blood of rheumatic poison. Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the salt of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

Rheumatism can't be rubbed away

Are you one of those unfortunates who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S. For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

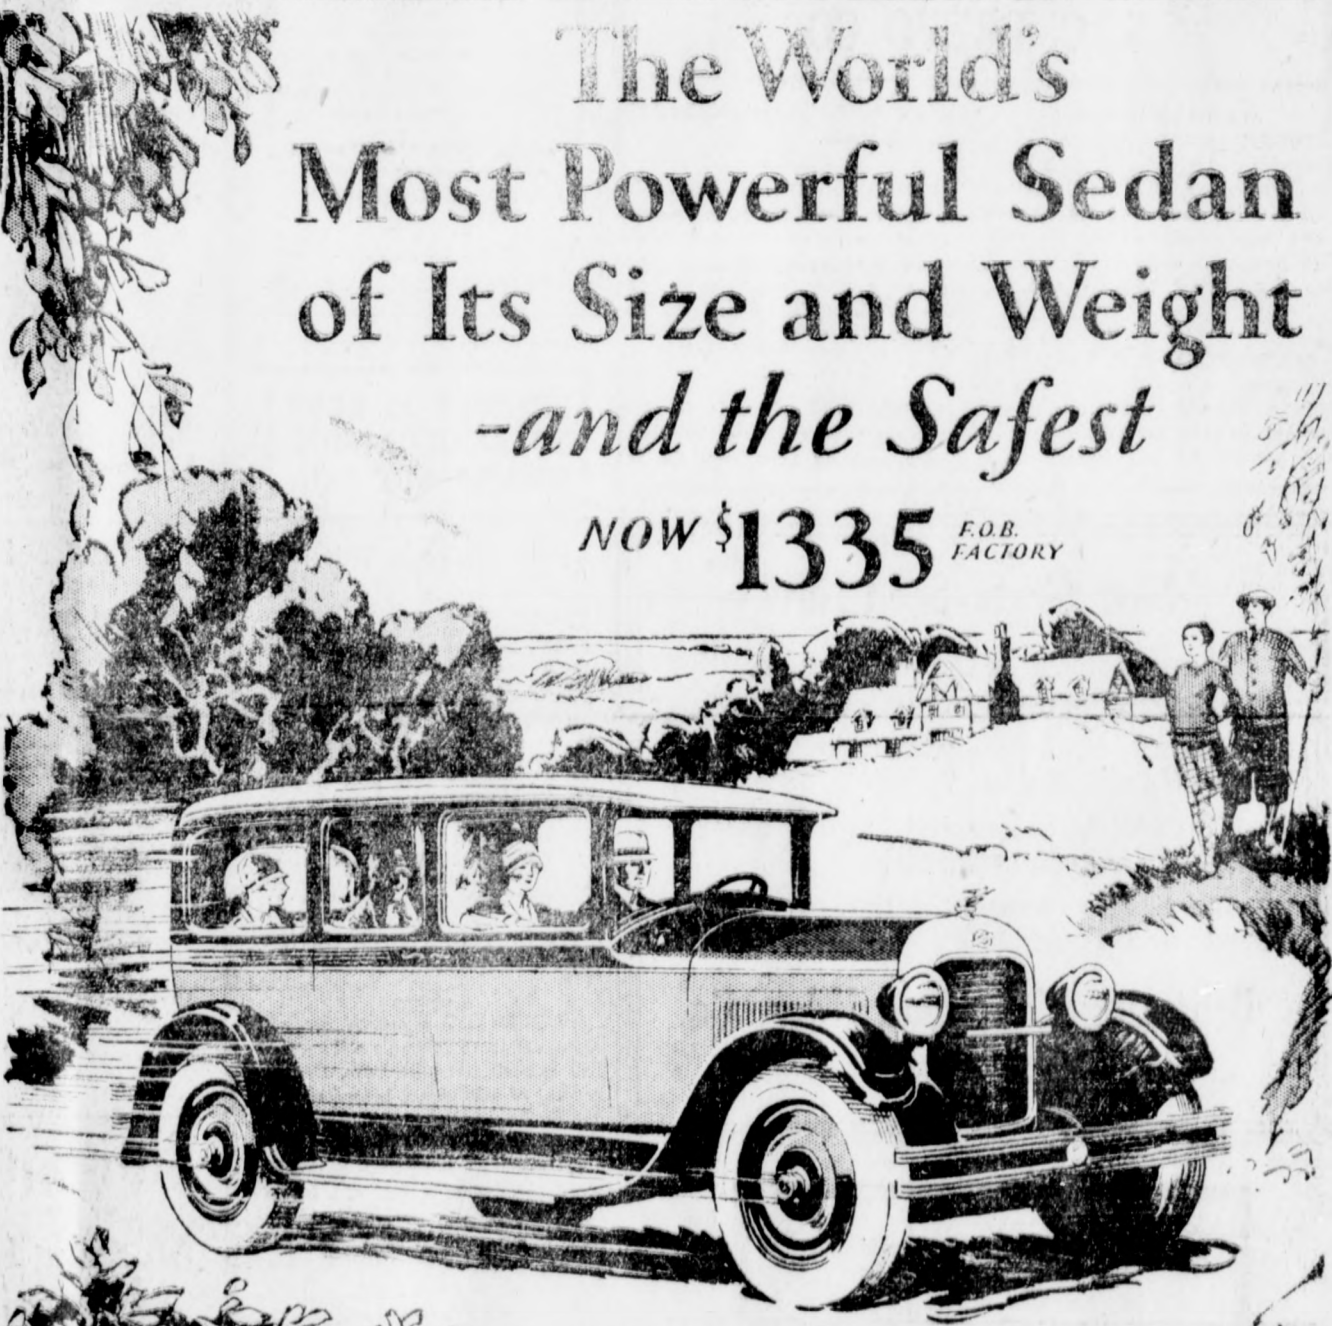

"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried most everything. Went to Hot Springs and finally I decided to try S. S. S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I also had a breaking out on my hands for years that nothing would heal, but now this has disappeared, and I am sure that it was S. S. S. which removed the cause. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S. S. S. is the best." Carl C. Campbell, 115 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause. S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY,
BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickly by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

FAMOUS HELENS

CHICAGO, Mar. 9. (UP)—Girls named Helen have an heritage which traces back to Helen of Troy, and makes them outstanding, according to Mrs. H. W. Filkey, mother of Helen Filkey, girl athlete of Chicago.

Miss Filkey, who has held most of the women's sprinting and jumping records, recently registered as a freshman at Northwestern university. Perfection of form made Helen a great girl athlete, her mother told the United Press.

"Helen Wills, great tennis player, Helen Wainwright, the great swimmer, and Helen Hayes—the great young actress in addition to my Helen are outstanding Helens of today," Mrs. Filkey said.

Interest in healthy sports or similar healthy recreations takes away the insane and silly sex interests of adolescent girls, Mrs. Filkey added.

WOMAN HELD PRISONER

PEKING, March 10. (UP)—Mme. Michael Borodin, wife of the Russian adviser to the Cantonese Nationalist government, today was a captive of the north China allies, according to foreign consular dispatches received here.

Mme. Borodin and three Russian diplomatic couriers arrived today at Tsinanfu, dispatches said, as captives. There was no confirmation of the report that the three couriers had been executed by Chinese troops following their arrest with Mme. Borodin aboard a Russian steamer.

The vessel was bound up the Yangtze river to Hankow, central China stronghold of the Cantonese.

Marshal Chang Tso-Lin's headquarters today denied that the couriers had been executed, but the foreign office so far had been unable to obtain a reply to its telegrams asking a report on the incident.

The Soviet Russian embassy regards the incident in the most grave light and has demanded detailed information of what took place.

Permanent streets are a good investment—not an expense

The Pavement
That Meets the Challenge of Traffic

Your own observation and experience will tell you that the street which was good enough twenty years ago, or perhaps even ten years ago, simply will not do today.

It lacks the strength, the rigidity and the firmness necessary to withstand the terrific wear and tear of motor transportation.

Only pavement will do this. And the pavement that meets all tests is concrete.

Built in accordance with approved standards of highway construction, the concrete pavement remains free of ruts and bumps, year after year.

Requiring practically no maintenance, it costs less in the end than any other pavement.

Isn't that the kind your community ought to have? Then let your local authorities know that you want your highways paved with concrete.

Our free booklet, "Concrete Facts about Pavements," will be sent promptly on request. Write for it today.
